

Fair Trade Coffee Project

What: The Fair Trade Coffee Project of Lutheran World Service allows members of Ascension to use our combined purchasing power to support and encourage small-scale farmers, often of third world countries. This assures the grower a fair price for their products with which to support their families, educate their children, and improve their communities. Ascension uses Fair Trade coffee for fellowship time after the Sunday service.

When: Ongoing

Who: Donna Pittman and many customers within the congregation

How: Order forms and price lists are available in a notebook on the narthex table. The products include coffee, tea, hot chocolate, chocolate bars, almonds, dried cranberries, and olive oil. Order forms may be placed in Donna's mailbox in the church office. Payment is made when the order is picked up from church. A sampling of products are also available for purchase in a basket at the church.
